WOODS SOUNDS THE TOCSIN

Bearing a copy of the Town Crier in his hand, Attorney Roland H. Woods of Lockwood Road, North Wilmington, issued a call to arms Monday night, against House Bill 1865, now pending in the legislature.

Mr. Woods appeared before the Selectmen, in their regular meeting, and said that he was much disturbed over the fact that nothing was being done about the proposed legislation, which is entitled an act relative to the Powers of the Selectmen of the Town of Wilmington.

Mr. Wood said that he was, as a private citizen, presenting to the board what he knew about this proposed act, and the effect it would have on the form of government, if the voters were deprived of having their say as to the form.

The bill, he said, was sponsored by the representative, Fred Cain. No copies of the bill were available until published by the state last Wednesday. The previous week, he said, Larz Neilson, in the Town Crier, had indicated that he couldn't find any copies of the bill.

The Thursday morning after the Wednesday that the bill was published the Town Crier came out with a copy of the bill. 'The Editor, who is usually very much alert, did not warn the people that if this act was passed by the legislature it would become a law, and the townspeople could do nothing about it,' he told the Selectmen.

His prime purpose in appearing before the Selectmen was to lay on the table whether or not his interpretation was correct; and, further, if the bill was passed, that the people would have no choice as to the type of government Wilmington had.

This is not the right way, Wood said. It is proper to have public debate. He raised two questions.

1. Is the Board of Selectmen, or some responsible authority of the town officials sponsoring this piece of legislation filed by Mr. Cain?

2. What is the attitude of the Board of Selectmen, covering said bill? Do they approve of the procedural manner of submission by Mr. Cain? Do they intend to oppose or object?

Selectmen Speak

Chairman LaRivee: No member of the board sponsored this bill. My opinion was that it was to go on the ballot before the public. It is not the intention of the board to deprive any citizen of Wilmington as to what his government will consist of. I will oppose anything that does not come before the people for a vote. I am speaking for myself as a private citizen.

Bender: I had planned to attend the hearing, and planned to speak against it, as it is a violation of home rule.

There had been two meetings on the subject, Bender said, that perhaps had been unreported because they were unfruitful and completely unproductive.

Original Charter By People

Woods: The original charter was submitted to the voters of the town, and any changes to it should be submitted to the voters. The name of the act, he pointed out, was The Town Manager Act of the Town of Wilmington, not The Selectmen's Act.

The Town Manager Act, he went on to say, could be amended, but it should be by vote of the people. If the legislation goes through as proposed, the people will have no vote. This act was so written, he said, that it became law on the passage of the bill.

For my part, he told the Selectmen, I'll fight it right up to Governor Volpe.

I don't think it is our function as private citizens to have to come out and fight this bill.

Bender: Your appearance served an excellent purpose, and I believe something will come of it. What has been needed is a catalyst, I have tried to be but was unsuccessful. Your appearance here tonight, I am sure, will provide the catalyst needed.

Brooks: I made it quite clear that we did not want to discuss what was in the bill, but the bill itself. Now is the time to discuss it, as it is a violation of home rule. The legislature does one thing, and then it turns around and does something else.

Mrs. Drew: I agree with you, Mr. Woods.

Woods: If the board should act officially on this -- you can't sleep on this, because they have

Clipper Barber Shop Gains National Mention

Danny Katsarakas, owner of the Clipper Barber Shop at the Wilmington Plaza, has been written up in the January issue of 'Men's Hairstylist and Barber's Journal'. The article described his attractive shop and congratulated him.

Danny, who was a football star in Peabody High School, went to Northeastern University and played semi-professional football for two years. His football career was checked by an injury and he had to look for a new profession. He is a graduate of the New England Barber School in Boston and served his apprenticeship in Woburn and Peabody.

Danny, a young man of twenty-five, lives in Peabody with his wife, Janet and already is doing well with his Clipper Barber Shop.

Dream World is Collapsing

With a sweep of his hand, Planning Consultant Sam Snow of Lexington, dismissed the Wonderful Dream World of former Town Manager Cecil Lancaster and Selectman John Brooks, Tuesday night.

'Rezoning this to Rural', he said. He was pointing to the industrial area along Route 125, in North Wilmington, where the two men public report on his studies of zoning along Route 93. The report was given to about 100 interested officials and guests, in the Herbert C. Barrows Auditorium.

The industrial area around Almsworth Road was also dismissed by Snow, as being an area 'difficult to reach'.

Ballardvale Street, where Selectman John Brooks 'worked so

Snow, hired by the Planning Board and Town Manager Gerald Bouchard, was making his first hard' came in for a short but pithy description, as being a street that was 'wide in places, but with only a six inch water main'. As such, Snow held, it was unattractive to industry.

Snow made two positive recommendations.

He recommended the rezoning of land north of Concord Street, and East of Route 93 to an Industrial Zone. The land is about 56 acres in extent.

He told his listeners that it

Action urged by Baldwin

The Baldwin Civic Association, meeting last night, declared their opposition to House Bill 1865, relative to amending the Town Charter, since the bill deprives the citizens of Wilmington the right to vote on the amendment.

The Baldwin Association directors, in a public appeal, urged all citizens of Wilmington who oppose this act to send letters or telegrams immediately to the Chairman, Committee on Towns, House of Representatives, State House, Boston.

Easter Ball Site Changed

The Lions Club has chosen a different site for the Annual Easter Ball.

Held for several years past in the Andover Country Club, it will be held this year, on April 30th, at the recently renovated and redecorated Speare House, on Pawtucket Boulevard, in Lowell.

The Speare House will accommodate over 700 people, at a party. The club directors voted the change last night.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEETING

Eligibility For School Sports Discussed

Bernard McMahon, principal of Wilmington High School, together with the Athletic Director, Larry Cushing, and Guidance Director John Hamilton were present at the School Committee meeting, last night, to discuss Eligibility of students to participate in sports.

A letter, from the Boosters Club a couple of weeks ago, was the reason why the educators were present. The letter had questioned the policy of the schools relative to the eligibility of students to participate in sports, and further asked whether Home Rule applies to extra curricular activities, or just to football.

McMahon told the committee that the Mass. Secondary School Principals Association required 15 credits in major subjects, in order to allow a pupil to take part in sports. This is based, he said, on 4 subjects, on which three are equal to passing, and one failing.

When the Wilmington schools increased their curriculum to 5 subjects, he said, then 2 failures were allowed.

It was, he reported, more noticeable in football than in other activities. He felt that the school was operating within the rules of the Massachusetts association.

Larry Cushing, Director of Recreation reported that when the Headmaster's office informed him that a boy was not doing well in his academic subject the boy would be told that if they failed in two they were out.

He went on to explain that four weeks before the marks 'came out' the boys received deficiency slips, which gives them time to make up their work. Cushing reported that he did not hesitate to tell the boys that they must have a passing grade in order to participate in a sports program.

John Hamilton, Guidance Director, felt that the policy had worked a tremendous good, in attitude.

The teachers, he said, were concerned with the progress of students, as well as with the consistency of the rules and their application. The faculty was in favor of the rules as they stand.

At the 9 and 10th grade levels Hamilton said, Band or Music is a required minor subject, and the students are marked as in their other subjects.

Since no minor is required in the 11th and 12th grades, other than physical education, if a band member fails while in these two grades, he would not be allowed to continue with the band.

Committeeman Eddie Page wanted to know if Wilmington was the only school that followed this policy. He was told that Billerica operates with much the same policy.

Arthur Lynch summed up that: 'We are in the business of education. If a child does not meet scholastic requirements, and can not participate in sports then the parents and the child must be prepared to suffer the consequences'.

Quality Marks

The committee discussed the two major projects which were slated last fall - Modern Math, and the new Report Card system.

The modern math program needed no discussion. It was running smoothly, the committee decided.

Bernard McMahon told the committee that the Quality Point system was working out well, and that he had had no enquiries after the November marking period, from either parents or students.

Hamilton concurred with McMahon. He felt the it was the best system thus far. The students, he said, felt that it gives a much fairer picture for those in the upper group, and Hamilton believed that it was a motivating factor for the lower groups.

Arthur Brewster queried if there had been any reaction from outside of town.

Hamilton told the Committee that Dr. Culliton, of the Department of Education of Boston University was much interested in the Wilmington system. He had reviewed it, and found it fascinating. The Doctor, Hamilton said, had commented that this was the sort of thing that a lot of schools should do.

Lexington, Hamilton said, was interested in the system, and was making enquiries.

The system is tailored after a system in use in Haverhill, and Mr McMahon stated that the Honor Roll, now, is not made up solely on Quality Points, but on Marks and Quality Points.

The Honor Roll, Hamilton told the committee, was a reward for class achievement. It provided an incentive, and an encouragement for the pupils. It was his feeling that there should be more concentration on the lower groups, and encouragement for them. He has noticed a marked change in the attitude of pupils.

The Quality Point System is not a substitute for marks, McMahon told the committee. It is merely a method of equating marks. The marks stand, but the Quality Points specify the 'weight' of the work.

DOGS ARE VERBOTEN

Harold Shea, Superintendent of Wilmington Schools, has appealed to parents for cooperation in keeping the family dog at home during the time the children are on their way to school. Teachers and principals of the schools, he said, have noticed a definite increase in the number of dogs on the school grounds.

Larry Cushing, Director of Recreation, pointed out, last night at the School Committee Meeting, that the problem has reached a high level. Dogs are running in packs in some instances. He stated that, at one time, an animal had entered the school and bit a child.

Notices have been sent home from the schools, but there has been no lessening in the number of dogs. Cushing said that the Boutwell Street area was the worst.

Both Shea and Cushing are appealing to parents to control their dogs and prevent further incidents of a child being bitten.

Selectmen's Meeting

Jurors

Two jurors were drawn by the Selectmen Monday, for special at Criminal Court in Cambridge, for March 2, 1965; Charles B. Haynes, 4 Ridge Road, and Richard J. La Vine, 39 Park Street.

Legion Oratorical

The Selectmen and TM Bouchard were invited to attend the finals of the American Legion Oratorical Contest at the high school auditorium on Sunday, February 28, at 2:30 pm. Wilmington High School has nine students who will be competing.

License

After having received all the necessary reports from the Fire Dept., Police Chief and the Board of Health, a renewal license to Sunnyside Farm Dairy was granted.

Civil Service

Civil Service was discussed very briefly with Mrs. Drew saying that she is no more in favor of Civil Service this year than she was last year.

John Brooks told the Board that he felt that last years' bill was badly drawn and that this years' bill is just as badly drawn and said that to him, the Civil Service was being used as a political weapon and not as a serious attempt to get Civil Service for the Town Employees.

Building By-Law Committee

The Building By-Law Committee requested an appointment by the Board to the committee to fill the vacancy of Roland Wood. Chairman Bob Leahy requested that the new appointee be a lawyer. This is to be an agenda item for next week's Selectmen's meeting.

New Board of Health Regulations

The Board of Health, Monday night, adopted a regulation which calls for doubling the area necessary for sewage disposal systems in new systems being installed in Wilmington.

As adopted there must be as much space left unused, in any lot of land, as is required for the disposal system - held in reserve for future use.

The regulation was adopted under legislation passed by the state, and is intended mainly to ensure that homes being built on small size lots do not have future troubles with sewage disposal.

Medicines

Taking note of a petition now being circulated whereby the Legislature is being asked to pass a law prohibiting the sale of certain medicines in other than drug stores Chairman Gus Walker jokingly refused to accept the idea. He referred to the fact that it will be impossible to buy an aspirin in a (for instance) super-market, and said it's getting to be more and more like a Police State!

The Flu

Reports to the board indicated that the attack of influenza, or of some similar virus, which laid low a number of people two weeks ago, had passed over by last week.

Miss Anne Butters, Public Health Nurse, reported that the High School was having only normal absences for January, according to Mr. Driscoll, the submaster.

Public Health Officer Ernest Romano reported that the State

Board of Health would be 'glad to examine' any specimens, with respect to the recent attack, and there was some discussion about asking the local physicians to co-operate.

Chest X Rays

Board member Mrs Marion Boylen noted reports on the health of employees of restaurants, and was told that some of the local employees should undergo a Chest X Ray. This can be done, she was told, at Waltham, and there is no charge.

75 Foot Lots

The board voted to write a protest to the state about the proposal to allow homes to be built, in all towns, with only a 75 foot frontage to house lots.

Dental Clinic

A short discussion was held with the Superintendent of Schools, with reference to the new situation for the Dental Clinic.

Sometime after the annual town meeting the Dental Clinic will be taken over by the Board of Health but will still remain in its present location.

The School Department will continue to schedule the children for treatment at the Clinic. There will be no charge, under the new set-up.

The clinic will continue with its present program of Examination, Education and Fluoridation.

WOODS SOUNDS
(From Fr. Page)WOODS LEAVING THE

a funny way of being passed. The legislator from this district is a member of the majority party, and the leadership for this party tends to act in these areas for the representative.

Any nut can file a bill, and the legislature must consider the bill, but this was not filed by a nut, it was filed by Representative Cain.

Selectmen Will Oppose

Woods then told the Selectmen he had intended to take fifteen minutes, and noted that he had taken 17. He thanked the board for its time, and made a prompt exit.

Later that evening, after the humdrum of the meeting had been discussed and disposed of, Chairman LaRivee again brought up the proposed act for discussion.

LaRivee told the board that the act submitted by Representative Cain had been submitted to him by his constituents. He felt that the board should take definite action on the bill. He told the board he would accept a motion to strongly protest the bill.

Brooks moved that 'we express opposition to the bill, as written, as it is a violation of home rule'. This was seconded by Bender, who further wanted to see any letter before it was sent in to the legislature. The motion was voted.

Bender then made a stronger motion.

He moved that the selectmen formally prepare a letter, to be signed by all members, protesting House 1865, as it is a violation of Home Rule. Mrs. Drew seconded, and it was voted.

Brooks' Speech
Droned

Selectman John Brooks, one of eight candidates who has filed for the post in the March election, made his first campaign speech in the Selectmen's meeting, Monday night.

It was a speech that started in strong and confident tones, and then droned off into nothing, as he seemingly realized that the subject he had chosen had no recent developments he could discuss. His droning conclusion was emphasized by a sarcastic concurrence on the part of Selectman Lloyd Bender.

It was towards the end of the Selectmen's meeting. Brooks' opening remarks were in an almost sepulchral tone.

'I have something of extreme importance, that I should like to call to the attention of the board, and the taxpayers, both of this community and the Commonwealth', he said.

He went on to relate that the Governor - Governor Volpe, had submitted a sales tax bill to the legislature. There were as yet no details, and the towns and cities were being asked to support the proposed legislation.

No provisions have been made or outlined, Brooks told the members, as to the distribution of the new revenues.

But, he said, he had been doing some homework. He reached into a pocket for some notes. He noted that last year the town received $198,456. Under the proposals of the governor, he said, the town would receive $613,000 or $685,000.

As he read on his tone level dropped. It dropped to a drone. He said, in effect, that inasmuch as there were no details or specific information he was not taking sides for or against the proposal, nor did he have any opinion.

Selectman Bender spoke up to heartily agree with Mr. Brooks. In an acid tone of voice he said that he too, tried to have no opinions on a subject of which he had no knowledge.

ZONING REPORT
(From Fr. Page)

was of extreme importance that a road be built into the South Industrial Zone, a move that has long been advocated by the Town Crier.

The Report

Mr. Snow was introduced by Town Manager Gerald Bouchard, who told the audience, composed of officials, land owners, and other interested persons including half a dozen ladies from the League of Women Voters, that Snow was a consultant who had been hired by the town and he was to report to such public meetings as may be required to implement his recommendations.

The purpose of the study was:

1. To analyze the present land use and industrial zoning along Route 93.

2. To analyze generally the provisions of the Zoning By-Law and Map, as they relate to Industrial Zoning.

3. To propose land use revisions by amendment to the zoning map.

4. To propose appropriate amendments to the Zoning By-Law.

For the most part, Snow said, the land along Route 93 is very low in density (population) except for some adjoining residential neighborhoods. Most of the land along Route 93 is in effect vacant. In part this is because of swampy land (i.e. the Hundred Acre Meadow).

Snow reported that he had found an inadequate description of bounds of the zoning districts, and that it was difficult for a developer to locate exactly the boundary between any two zoning districts.

He also found that the zoning districts were not clearly related to existing property lines. He felt that the district bounds should conform, at least in part, to the bounds of individually owned parcels of land. The present provisions of the zoning by-law, he said, for making adjustments on parcels of land bisected by a zoning district boundary, are too difficult. He did not clearly indicate how he would correct this.

Swampy Land

Snow found that there was land zoned for industry which was swampy, and he did not think this was desirable, although he thought that perhaps some of it could be drained and filled.

He indicated that he believed that Wilmington needed Flood Plain Zoning (a provision for zoning along rivers and brooks, Ed.) to protect areas such as the Hundred Acre Meadow, because of the wellfields along the Ipswich River in Reading and Lynnfield.

It was his feeling that the rezoning that had been done in North Wilmington, from the power line east across Andover Street and along Route 125 should be revoked and that the land should be reclassified to rural.

He felt that access to land south-east of Routes 125 and 93 was poor. He took exception to the Ainsworth Road access.

He indicated deficiencies generally to large tracts of land zoned for industry - 1. No sewerage, especially in North Wilmington, and a long distance to go. 2. Only 6 inch water main on Ballardvale Street, 'Terribly Inadequate', and finally, 3. that many parcels of land zoned for industry were either inaccessible or with very poor access.

He specifically said that the zoning between Woburn Street and Route 93, and between West Street and Route 93 (waving his hand over a map showing both sides of the Ipswich) should be zoned Residential.

South of 129

South of Route 129, below Suncrest Avenue, Snow strongly suggested that a road should be cut through, from West Street to Woburn Street, to open up the land and to provide water and public sewerage. 'Spend real dough here,' he said.

He said that provisions should be made to 'protect' the people in Suncrest Acres, and vaguely recommended another road, beside West Street, and indicated also that traffic could use Woburn Street.

Zoning By-Law

Snow suggested that each specific zoning district should be accurately described within the zoning by-law, not merely be reference to the official zoning map.

He noted that there had been many revisions in zoning, and urged that the town get around to printing an up to date zoning map, with amendments since 1955.

He suggested that restrictions on Industrial Use in lots which were divided between residential and industrial use be eased. He did not say exactly how this should be done.

Snow also suggested that there be two or more kinds of industrial districts, with the new ones being more restrictive than the present requirements. He felt that the sign regulations in the zoning by-law should be modified to give industrial firms that might locate along Route 93 more advertising value. At the same time he suggested that the town should have a separate law on signs.

Off Street Parking requirements should be made more stringent, he said.

Frontage and area requirements for industrial zoning should be increased. He didn't think very highly of the 100 foot lot.

H wanted to insert a 'Statement of Purpose' for an Industrial District.

Enforcement

Snow felt that the administration and standards of enforcement should be improved. For this purpose he proposed that any builder should be required to submit a detailed site plan prepared by a Registered Engineer, which specifically located a proposed building with reference to street, property lines and zoning bounds. This he said, would simplify the work of the building inspector.

Industrial Developments, he said, should be subject to the approval of the Planning Board in terms of layout and design.

The present thirty foot restriction on height of buildings is too restrictive, Snow said.

More stringent buffer zone protection should be provided between an industrial and residential zones, and the present requirements that the floor area of a building may not exceed 70% of an industrial lot ought to be cut back very sharply to around 25%.

The procedures for amending the Zoning By-Law should be spelled out in the Zoning By Law, Snow told his audience. He said that any proposed amendment should be submitted to the Planning Board at the same time that they are submitted to the Board of Selectmen, so as to avoid the 'last minute' business in zoning studies.

He strongly urged the adoption of a new and more comprehensive building by law, which, he said, was one of the greatest deficiencies confronting the town today.

Lead in their Skates?

They've got lead in their skates! That was the comment of one of the spectators, at the Wilmington-Burlington hockey match, Saturday evening. He was talking about the Wilmington team.

Wilmington should have been good. Star Pete Emery was back, playing forward, after his recent bout with the flu - and Burlington is sort of the underdog team of the league - which had been vying for second place - from the bottom!

The score was two to one, in Burlington's favor, and that one goal was scored by Emery, with an assist from Currier. It was Wilmington's second loss of the season, and gives it an overall record of seven wins, two losses and one tie.

Masconet is still in first place now with seven wins and no losses. It trounced Chelmsford 8 to 2, last Saturday.

In the third game of the evening Billerica downed Ipswich 5 to 1, giving that team a record of four wins and three losses.

NORTHEAST SENIOR HOCKEY LEAGUE

The Wilmington Seacraft Skates defeated Andover Tuesday night, 8-4. The teams, after a slow start, played a tremendous game, right to the end, and with only two penalties.

The scoring was: John Curran, 2 goals, 1 assist; Hank Moriarty, 2 goals; Cliff Huston, 1 goal, 2 assists; Buddy Chambers, 1 goal, 3 assists; Reg Chambers 1 goal, 2 assists; George Clements 1 goal, 1 assist, and Eddie Chaisson 1 assist.

WAKEFIELD 6 WILMINGTON FORD 2.

The Shirreff Oilers of Wakefield scored an upset victory over Wilmington Ford, Monday, in the Merrimack Valley Amateur Hockey League.

Wilmington's loss was its third

Tied Masconomet Wednesday

But it was a different kind of game yesterday afternoon, when an aroused Wildcat team scrapped their way to a three to three tie with the league leading Masconomet team.

It was the first time this year that Masconomet did not win. It has not lost a game yet, but it has been tied!

Masconomet took the lead in the first period, but two goals in the second and third periods, by Pete Emery, assisted by Lennie Galvin, put Wilmington back in the game.

The tying goal, with less than two minutes of the game remaining, was hotly contested.

Paul Currier scored unassisted, but the scoring was contested, and when the goal was called it was heard to be 'Currier with two assists!' This led to an argument in which both teams took part, but the goal held, and Masconomet was tied.

Rotary Observes Twentieth Birthday

A FABULOUS RACONTEUR: The Rev. John Nicoll Mark, retired Unitarian Minister, who was District Governor of Rotary when Wilmington's club was formed, twenty years ago, flanked by President Bob Sumberg, (left) and Past President Henry J. Porter.

The speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday was the Rev. John Nicoll Mark, retired Unitarian minister, and a Past District Governor of Rotary.

The Rev. Mr. Mark is one of the best story tellers in the United States, and was asked particularly to be the speaker because it was the 20th anniversary of the Wilmington Club. He has spoken several times in Wilmington during the past 20 years, and he was just as entertaining as a man of 78 as he was as a man of 58 years.

Henry Porter, Past President, gave a short talk on the history of the club.

Sometime in September 1944, Mr. Porter said, Frank Crocker of the Woburn Club, and Walter Wilcox, also of Woburn, came to Wilmington and talked with Joe McMahon about starting a club in Wilmington.

Joe referred them to Al Osterman, and they returned in about a week to talk more with Al.

Al referred them to me, and Frank Crocker, who was then the president of the Woburn Club, came to me.

I told him I didn't think that we could muster up enough men who would be willing to meet weekly either during the day, or at night. I said I would get some men together, and fine a meeting place.

I called Fred Cain, and got permission to use his show room. So Al, Joe, and myself rounded up eight or ten fellows and met with Frank Crocker, Walter Wilcox, and Governor John Nicoll Marks. They explained about Rotary, and we voted to hold a meeting by ourselves the following week.

We held our meeting, and decided to go ahead, and called for another meeting with the three gentlemen. We were told then just what the procedures were to start a club, and so, on Nov. 29, 1944 we held our first meeting to accept Rotary.

We took a vote on officers, and I had the pleasure of nominating Fred Cain as our first president. We also nominated Al Osterman as Treasurer, Steve Bean Secretary, and my self as Vice President. Harry Huntley was delegated to find a meeting place, and a caterer, for the new club.

Prior to Mr. Porter's short talk prayers were held for the deceased members of the Wilmington. The club prayed for Peter Nelson, Bill McLaughlin, Ernest Currier, Tom McGuinness, Bill Cavanaugh, Steve Bean, Louis McMahon, Harry Simes, Clarence Stevenson, Tim Cunningham, Louis Elfman, Vinal Conway, John Nitchle and Henry Blair.
